HOW TO PRESERVE COLORS OF FLOWERS IN DRYING.—The following method has been given in a late number of the Journal of one Stalla stuion vedette.

the Society of Arts:
"A vessel, with a movable cover is provided, and having removed the cover from it, a piece of metallic gauze of moderate firmness is fixed over it, and the cover replaced. A quantity of sand is then taken sufficient to fill the vessel, and passed through a sieve into an iron pot, where it is heated, with the addition of a small quantity of stearine, carefully stirred, so as to thoroughly mix the ingredients. The quantity of stearine to be added is at the rate of half a pound to (n) hundred pounds of sand. Care must be taken not to add too much, as it would sink to the bottom and injure the flowers. The wessel, with its cover on, and the gauze beneath it, is then turned upside down, and the bottom being removed, the flowers to be used are carefully placed on the gauze, and the sand gently poured in, so as to cover the flowers entirely, the leaves being thus prevented from touching each other. The vesselis then put in a warm place, such, for instance, as the top of a baker's oven, where it is left for forty-eight hours. The flowers thus become dried, and they retain their natural colors. The vessel still remaining buttom upwards, the lid is taken off, and the sand runs away through the gauze, leaving the flowers uninjured."

The statesmen and lawyers, who sang as well as fought through the rebellion, say that the punishment for "High Treason" should be "Sour Apple Trees" on."

BEHAVE YOURSELVES.

"So long as the Gentiles keep quie and behave themselves they will be safe enough, but if they undertake to do anything they will all be served the same way," was the remark of a "Policeman" on Main street day before yesterday, in relation to the late murder. - Well it may be so. It is possible that these murdering villians will have every thing their own way, "now that the troops are to be mustered out."-It is not to be denied that the universal sentiment among the Mormons is that the death of Brassfield was justifiable, and that to use their oft repeated expressions, "it served him just right!" No one expects that there will be any effort made, on the part of the authorities, to arrest the murderer;we say "arrest" because we and the community in general, are satisfied that he is known and shielded by them. The pitiful attempt of the Mormon press to convey the idea that Brassfield was urged on to his own fate for the purpose of making a test of the Polygamy question, and the no less wicked endeavor to justify his "untimely taking off" on that account, is proof enough of the correctness of our opinion.

Allowing for a moment that the Mormon leaders believed their own assertions, is it not proof, "strong as the Holy Writ," that they were afraid to let the "test" be settled by the courts?-Do they not tacitly admit that Brassfield was killed because they feared the result of the trial by law?-They cannot escape the inevitable conclusion.-He was killed because he had "interfered" with their hellish doctrine of Polygamy. Failing to convict him in the courts, they murdered him in the streets. It is a hard saying, but it is nevertheless true.-They know it to be true - and they know that the people every where will believe it .-"But what will you do about it," asks some one. "Do about it?-don't know, -don't care," replies the Telegraph, with that perfect abandon which a murderer conscious of security, always assumes. - Well, there may be those who do not believe in a hereafter. We are not one of them, and we expect that the slow and sure, and a terrible retribution is growing in the womb of the future. which, when it falls, will teach these devils incarnate that "there is a God in Is-real." In the mean time let our merbusiness men generally remember that they are "intruders" here in the "State of Deseret", - that they are aliens from the United States, and that they must "behave themselves," for there is a "Lion" in the way, and that this Territory "belongs to the Mormons!" Gentiles, beware! BRAVE men, and those who have right on their side will not shoot you in the back-if you "behave yourselves!"

The Lecture Thursday Night.

In accordance with the announcement previously given, the Hon. Chas. Wesley Wandell, United States Commissioner, a Mormon of the anti-Polygamy school, delivered the fourth of the course of lectures before the Y. M. L. Association of this city, at Independence Hall, on Thursday evening last. The hall was crowded by an attentive audience, and the lecturer, who spoke without notes, gave, in a calm, unimpassioned, dignified manner, a Mormon's view of Mormonism in Utab. The subject announced was "The American Government and the Mormon people." While we cannot expect, from our brief notes, to do justice to the Hon. Gentleman's discourse, we cannot forbear attempting a brief synopsis, assuring our readers who were not present that they missed an excellent opportunity of hearing many "words fitly spoken" which were, indeed, "like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

The lecturer said: * * * * * The Mormon Church erose and took its chances to increase in numbers, wealth and power in common with other churches of the land, and at first, as is always the case when new ideas are materialized, the church met with opposition and persecutions, but they did not come from the Government. In Ohio they were persecuted, and they removed to Missouri. There they were no better off. They were among a class of border men, hunters and settlers, rough and irresponsible; men who were known at one time as "Border Ruffians." and at a later day as "Jayhawkers." Surely the Government was not responsible for the Lovernment was not responsible for the individual acts of these men? The Mormons, doubtless, were badly treated in many instances, and sometimes, per-haps, they themselves were to blame. They petitioned the President—Andrew Jackson-for redress. He replied that the question of grievances was entirely a judicial one, and must be settled by the courts; but, if they needed "protection" it should be afforded them in common with every American citizen. The Mormens subsequently returned to Illinois, and again laid their grievances before the President. Mr. Van Buren then occupied the Presidential chair, and his ansatzat are arrest to the common than the common pied the Presidential chair, and his answer was similar to what Jackson's had been, that the proper place to seek redress was through the civil courts. They then commenced to build Nauvoo. Trouble again arose. Probably the Mornous were not whelly blausless. Hore Jessy Smith committed the great error of gains into an extensive military organization, and in this he certainly pursued a course different from other charch organizations in our country, and thus a direct issue with the civil authorities was initiated. Strange reports began to circulate – some Strange reports began to circulate -some of the Mormons, and the trouble finally culminated in the death of Joseph and his brother Hyrum. The Mormons left Nauvoo and started for California, then belonging to Mozico. In the they were nartly guided by the advise of Henry Clay, who told them that they had later leave the country. They had no idea at first of settling in Utah. Samuel Brannan started with a small party of pioneers by me for the Pacific coast, and the rest commenced the journey overland. These latter proceeded as far as Council Bluffs, where, becoming very destitute of proviwhere, becoming very destitute of provisions, many of them worn out by sick-ness and hardships—starvation staring them in the face, they were obliged to

About this time the war with Mexico commenced, and Brigham Young, who had been elected to the head of the Church, wrote to the President of the United States, offering to raise a bat-talion of men for service in Mexico. The offer was accepted, the battalion was raised at once, and the money drawn from the Government on that account. expended for medicines and food, saved the Mormon people from starvation and death. Does that look like "persecution?" And yet, the people are told that it was! The Government should have been blessed as the savior of "this people" in their darkest hour of sufferng and distress, instead of being revited and cursed as their natural enemy!

Finally they reached Utab, and settled in Salt Lake Valley. And here we have an illustration of the "infalibility" of the prophets The people had been taught that they were to be an independent nation by themselves. Now, if they had gone further north towards the British pessessions, or, indeed, south towards afexico, they would have secur-ed a comparative exclusiveness for many years to come; but they stopped right here in the Great Pathway of nations, the high-road of immigration; where the Puny Express has already given way to the Telegraph, and where the Stage Coach will soon be superceeded by the Pacific Railroad! Exclusiveness in such a position is simply impossible. Well, the Mormons premeditated a State organization, and applied to Congress for the admission of "Deseret." Of course Congress could not then admit us as a State, but did give us a very liberal Territorial organization, and bad Utah done her duty by teaching her people loyalty, there never would have been any difficulty; but she neglected to do this; nay, she taught treason in-stead, and the natural consequences followed; an eternal quarrel and fuse about the Government. When the United States officials were sent here. troubles always arose; but when complaints were made about them to the Government, they were removed, and new ones were sent out. The Governand their hellish system of Polygamy is not far distant. Vengeance is swift—and Brassfield was murdered; but justice is slow and sure and start an teachings of the leaders, who assiduous-ly inculcated the idea that the Mormons were to be a great nation by themselves. The practice of polygamy also occasioned distrust on the part of the Government, and its practice was strenuously denied, and no less a personage than chants, bankers, lawyers, doctors, and Jedediah M. Grant was sent East for the express purpose of denying it, and he did it mast persistently!

The old-fashioned doctrine of Mormonism was quite different from what it has grown to be in Utah. It used to be has grown to be in Utah. It used to be something like Methodism in its devotion and Christian zeal. The people met often for prayer and praise; they had abundant faith, and possessed much vital, purifying religion. But our rulers thought that a "reform" was necessary, and they instituted it by a wholesale system of marriage, and a wholesale practice of throat-cutting! There was no security of life nor property; no one dared to utter a word of dissent, and a perfect reign of terror existed. Well, the Government sent out troops lere to protect the immigration—the "Indians" were committing a good many atrocities then, you know!—and the Government officials had also obtained permission to use the troops for their own protection, if necessary. Was this "persecution"? It was well known that the United States laws could not be enforced in Utah .-They cannot be enforced to-day. Yet the people were told that it was at act of hostility for the Government to send troops here, and the people in their simplicity believed it;—they were told that the soldiers were a "mob" coming to cut their throats, and they believed that, too! Where, I ask, was the first act of hostility committed by the soldiers—was the first wrong inflicted by them? There was none. There had been murder and other crimes committed, and Judge Cradlebaugh tried to bring the offenders to justice—and that was all. Yet the rulers said that "the people" were being persecuted!

During our late rebellion, the Government had a right to expect loyalty from Utah as well as her other Western Territories, and. indeed, the leaders were anxious to impress Congress with were anxious to impress Congress with the idea that they were loyal—and that was all they did. They raised no men, contributed no money. We could have sent them a thousand hardy, fighting men—we did not send them one. In fact, it would have been better for us to have sent at least that number; we would have been safer at home for their absence! But with all our pretensions of loyalty, we could meet together each Sunday morning, and pray that the Government might be put down; that the Union might be broken up; that the South might prevail, and that our "enemies" might be destroyed, all excepting the women—we could take care of them!

But the people of Utah programs at But the people of Utah remained at home—perfectly free to think as they pleased, provided they thought as Brigham did; perfectly free to act as they pleased, so long as they acted as he commanded! Previous to General Connor's coming here, no man owned any the place of the herrid bagedy. No had diens did that bloody work. Every scull had a rifle-ball through it. Infants, children, adults, all killed by a bullet through the head. That is not indien style. The wavy tresses of fair-haired maidens, yet clinging to the sculls which lay around, were gathered up and made into larriets by "our boys." (O ye hounds! Hell is an ice-house compared to the burnings of your future punishment! We couldn't help saying it. Reporter.) Now, what help saying it. Reporter.) Now, what has the Government done about this affair? Nothing. (Shame! shame! "O land of the brave!") It has shown the utmost leniency. Is this "persecution?"

When Johnson first came here an fort was made to raise an "army" to fight the Government; we were going to raise a force of twelve hundred men to wipe out the whole United States! We were told, also, that we were going to out-vote the entire country, and elect Brigham Young President. Why, I do not suppose that there are 3000 legal voters in the Territory. The most of our people are foreigners, and they have always been discouraged from becoming citizens. I wish it to be understood that I am in favor of the Mormon people. I have lived among them for years. There are thousands of honest, sincere people here; but they do not think for them-selves, and they dare not act for themselves. Let them be taught to serve the Government; let them learn to pray for its welfare and not for its destruction; let them learn to consider it their country, and all will yet be well.

[Opinions of the New York Press on the Peace Proclamation.]

The Times says: This interpretation of the present status of the South virtually places South Carolina and New York on the same footing in all that per-tains to their relations to other States and to the National Government. The proclamation carries with it this force without the slightest infringement upon the high prerogative which Congress holds to determine the rights of individual claimants to seats in either branch of that body. It simply announces to the Southern States that they are once more intrusted with the maintenance of law and order within their own borders, and to the world at large that the Government is restored upon a basis consistent with the rights and immunities of individual States. In view of our conmercial and financial position, we cannot regard this great executive act without satisfaction, in view even of the dif-ferences which temporarily estrange the majority in Congress from the President. The proclamation will help reasonable men to find a basis of honorable compromise, and in view of the possibility of external trouble, however remote, the act must commend itself to patriotic men as one of wisdom.

The Herald regards the proclamation as a defiance hurled to Congress. It says the President alone has adhered to and maintained the great national principles and policy of the party that car-ried the country through the war.— Abandoned by Congress, he has pursued their logical conclusions without reference to that body in these principles enunciated in his proclamation of peace and union. All the States have now, since the nullification of the ordinance of se-cession by the Texas Convention, done all that lay in their power toward once more taking their proper positions in the Union. It only remained for the President to do the rest on behalf of the country. His clear duty was to pro-nounce their complete resionation, and this he has promptly, boldly and unre-servedly done. He has done this entire-ly without regard to the present course of Congress, and really in defiance of it. The Constitution, the repeated declara-tions of the party to which he owes his position and the voice of the whole peo-ple marked out this line of conduct with unmistakeable distinctness, and left him commanded! Previous to General Connor's coming here, no man owned any property by virtue of any law of the land; he had no wife but by the "King's" command; he breathed the free air of blood coursed through his veins at the pleasure of the "King," and if his throat remained uncat, it was by the "King's" sufferance. I could not say then what I am paying to aight, and live five minites. These things are true. But, thank God, I can now claim the right, as an American citizen, to express my boughts freely; and so long as the troops are here, I can do so safely, and no longer!

They tall us that the scenes of Mountain Meadow. Springville, Payson, and other places were the result of a fanaticism which will not be repeated. But do not the blood depart ching from the corpse of the murdered Brassheld tell us otherwise! If Government protection is removed the dark days will come again! no option.

It would be difficult to controvortany of the positions he lays down. such as the incongruity of the system of military occupation with our institutions, military occupation with our institutions, the policy of using persuasive methods to strengthen the renewed allegiance of the late Rebel States, i.e. Yet we cannot help feeling an anxiety for the peace of the Southern States, if the military which now in many places hold disorder in chack shall be withdrawn, as of in check, shall be withdrawn, as of ceurse it must be all over the South, society will be like the ocean after a tempest, heaving and tossing tumultuously, and casting up to the surface the mire of its bed. It is fortunate, therefore, that this proclamation has been issued the Legislature. The responsibility from which military power has relieved itself must now be borne by civil power.— The Federal Legislature will now be called upon to do its part in providing a remedy for those violations of the rights of citizenship which will inevitably, in the present state of the Southern country, be perpetrated, and for which local Court would be certain to afford no redress. Members of Congress by whose votes it will be either enacted or defeated cannot now say there is military at the late seat of revolt charged with the duty of preserving the peace and seeing that the rights of the colored race and those who remained faithful to the Union are respected. People will now look to Congress, and no member who supported the bill at first can now change his vote without the certainty of an unpleasant meeting with his constituents on returning home.

THE last number of the Salt Lake City Union Vedette comes to us with us with new head. A complete revolution has taken place in Salt Lake since the establishment of a wide-awake Gentile paper there. - Leavenworth Times, House Warming, - Last Tuesday even ing one of the most pleasant parties of the season came off in the new Photograph Gathery asf Satterley Bros and the Law Office of J. M. Thurmond, Esq., which divergentrice the whole of the second floor of Ransohoff's new building. The company comprised the very elite of the Gentile community, while Mesers. Satterley and Thurmond did the honors of the occasion in a manner highly satisfactory to their happy guests. The choicest of refreshments were pro-vided, and dancing was kept up until the small hours. The rapidly increasing business of Sutterley Bros. has induced them to enlarge their Gallery by the addition of the large room in the rear of Mr. Thurmond's office, which has been atted up in the most elegant manner, and abother present time we doubt if there is a more complete Photograph Gallery of the Pacific slope.

DISOWNED .- Many of the Mormon citizens residents of this city disown the articles which have recently appeared in the Telegraph in reference to the assassination of Brassfield. It is not claimed that the Mormon people as a community are responsible for that act. It was committed under the advice of a clique that is attempting to reproduce a reign of terror in this community and thus regain their old influence. The Mormon people as a community need not fear that the Gentile residents will hold them responsibile as a community, for the assassination of Brassfield. The responsibility is fixed where it belongs. Every candid thinking man and woman in this city understands the issue.

THINK OF IT .- We are living in strange times. Red-handed murder not only stalks abroad in our midst, but he has grown popular. He is defended by the press and applanded in the Tabernacle. He is toasted at the convivial board, and blessed at the family after. Men follow him admiringly as sycophants follow their leader; be is "lionized," be is "exalted," he is elevated to the dignity of a "counselor." He subsidizes the daily papers, and their praise of him is only equalled by their denunciations of his enemies. O but he is a "brave" and "honorable" deity! He steals unawares upon his victims, while his admiring toadles stand at the corners ready to succor him from the rude gaze of the rabble. Honest men-Mormons, Jews and Gentiles, applaude bis noble work. Only thieves, gamblers, whore-mongers,-the dirty and the vile, condemn him in the least! He who approves of his course is a "Saint." honorable, reliable, "responsible;" he who condemns him is a "miserable bound," only fit for the bewie-knife or the bullet! Such is the situation. tion and detraction ever since the first monifestation of the Washoe high figure in the market, while California quartz is once more yielding fortunes. We read in an exchange that the Affison Ranch mine is turning out gold in almost fabulous quantities, the rock, at a depth of seven hundred feet, yielding at the rate of one thousand eight hundred dollar to the ton! The yield of the rock crushed in the mill for the past month is said, by the same paper, to have been at the rate of two hundred thousand dollars a week-that amount ... having been cleaned up each Sal turday night for four weeks past. At this rate, the mine would turn out ten million dollars per year! Even the Gould & Curry could never beat that in regularity of yield .- Sac. Bee.

An eye witness relates the following incident: At a revival meeting in Illinois, an impulsive Dutchman was present . In the progress of the meeting, Dutchy's feelings became overpowering, and rising and swinging his hat, he exclaimed with unction: "Hurray for Shesus! He is the feller!" The effect was electrical. the serious countenances gave way to merry oner.
